Betty was such a good mother and a sweet friend. She would tell it like it was and she kept it real. She always was talking about Cloy and her kids and her snakes. She had the sweetest laugh when she talked about her family. My whole family loved her family we got to know her through Nathan and accepted him as one of us. I know this family has walked through some very dark places and in some of those places took a part of them they were not willing to let go. I want her family to know that watching you hurt and having to let go her you can know that she was ready and she wouldn't want you to be broken hearted. While she was on this earth she loved you. Her love want stop there. You will see her and her her many times her love hasn't left. I love y'all.
