“ Never will I forget a friend who feels for others. Met with Connie in Presidio, Texas. We had great simple joyful times together with the rest of the filipino teachers . As a widow for quiet sometime, she lovingly told me to find a soulmate from the internet. I ignored that idea but she kept pushing and eventually I did and by the grace of God, I got married to my online friend in Houston and that ended our bond but i terribly missed her and my young teacher friends in Presidio. Although she had her own struggles and flight of searching a future, she encouraged everyone even to an old widow like me to not give up. Ready to pray and lift up everyone’s spirit. I love you Connie and thank you for paving a way for my future here in this foreign land. You truly was a blessing from God. Prayers I will lift up to God’s throne of grace for your family. May they feel God’s presence and love during this hurtful times. Sending you off with the hope of a joyful homecoming and reunion with our Lord Jesus. Sleep in peace my dear Connie. ❤️

“ In a foreign country where we were meant to stop,
Worrying while we're waiting to land a job,
While others in our group have been hired,
You came and reminded me never to feel tired!
You may have seen my agony,
That You came and asked to pray with me!
You said I am the youngest so you worried about me,
I laughed and said, no I am now two plus twenty!
Here's to the adventures in Ptown!
Here's to Billy Joel's Powerpuff Girls Uptown!
Here's to the love and craziness in you!
Here's to the laughs, loves, disappointments and miracles,
Your Keith and Elle, your best miracle!
Rest easy, ate Connie!
On this earth, you have toiled and served,
Rest in comforting peace God has reserved...
We will miss you ate Con💕💕
