“ Emma was my granddaughter Skylars best friend and she was the sweetest person you could ever meet. She always had a smile on her face and I always enjoyed it when her and Sky would come to visit me. They came to visit me at my workplace this past Monday night and right before she left I hugged her and told her I loved her. Emma you will truly be missed and thank you for always watching out for my Skylar. You were the best❤️

“ I did not personally know Miss Emma, but she is certainly a kindred spirit, as I taught the very first theatre classes and directed plays at Piedmont High School many moons ago. I am acquainted with her uncle Greg, and am friends with the theatre faculty at University of West Georgia, where I also directed plays for the theatre department's fundraisers for quite a few years. God bless Emma's family and friends! RIP, sweet thespian child, and be sure to take centerstage in the heavens!
