“ J.J.'s smile was so infectious. When I would walk into his room and lay with him and say his name he would smile from ear to ear. He would cackle when I tickled him. J.J. Mon-Mon will hold you close to my heart until we can hold each other again. I wish the world could have met you so they could see what a joy it was to know you. You were the happiest little boy I have ever known. I love and miss you more than words could ever explain. Go enjoy and explore every inch of heaven that you can. I want to hear all your stories when I get there.
