Jerry and I are distant relatives brought together by our common love of family history/genealogy. We had both traced our families back to one common ancestor, John Charles Barnes (from Ireland) and his wife Sallie Watson (of Georgia, USA). We exchanged emails and information but never got to meet in person yet I feel like we knew each other. I hate to hear of his passing but am glad to hear that his family tree is continuing to flourish through his children and his children's children. God Bless.

Jerry was my neighbor and a childhood playmate. I remember one day when were very young but Jerry was a lot larger than me and I had him to lift me up carry me, Mrs. Mobley came out and saw us and she started hollering at Jerry, JERRY PUT HER DOWN. He reminded me of that day at a class reunion many years ago. I wish my short term memory was as good as my long term. Have not seen him in a very long time. So sorry about his passing.
