“ Frankie and I worked together for several years at the VA in Murfreesboro during her stint as a nursing supervisor. Frankie spoke often and lovingly about her family, so I knew that was important to her. After she left nursing management and re-located to the clinics, I did not see her as much, but she when I did, she displayed the same friendliness and caring attitude that I had come to know. She was a determined patient advocate and always stood for what she believed to be the right thing to do. May God's blessings be with you all as you say your earthly goodbyes, knowing His promise of a reunion in Heaven one day.
