Mrs. Simpson was a lifelong resident of Calhoun County, a graduate of Spring Garden High School, and attended Jacksonville State University. She began her work career at Lawtex Manufacturing in the bookkeeping area and later moved into a healthcare position at the Piedmont Hospital. She worked in the Medical Records Department as a cancer registrar at Piedmont Hospital and Kennestone Hospital in Marietta, Georgia. After retirement from Kennestone, Mrs. Simpson worked in the Human Resources Department for Bostrom Seating in Piedmont. She loved all of her work places and made countless friends along the way. Everyone knew her as Mrs. Frances and she loved it. Mrs. Simpson approached work and personal responsibilities with vigor and determination to do the very best job she could do and never stopped until just a few years ago when her health began to decline. She taught her family that you can accomplish a lot with a strong work ethic and being sweet and kind to everyone. She will also be remembered for maintaining her home and property in an immaculate order with enjoyment in the process. She loved her family dearly and loved spending time with all of them. She was known as "Mama" by her grandchildren and she will be greatly missed. Mrs. Simpson attended the Congregational Methodist Church and loved traveling with her family to the beach, attending the Rockettes, and other musical concerts. She is survived by a daughter, Janet Harper and son-in-law, Rick Harper of Glencoe, Alabama, two grandchildren, Jessica Kerr (Robert) of Augusta, Georgia, and Alex Harper (Candace) of Jacksonville, one sister, Pamela Prater Gilley of Piedmont, sister-in-law Jennie Vee Prater, five great-grandchildren, Mallory Hendrickson, Hayes Hendrickson, Brycen Kerr, Linley Kerr, and Collier Kerr of Augusta, Georgia, nephews, Kaylon Gilley of Franklin, Tennessee, Randall Prater (Kim) of Spring Garden, Alabama, niece, Jennifer Cofield (Chris) of Wellborn, and great-nieces and nephews, Macon Cofield, Jacob Cofield, Jay Prater (Hannah), and Sawyer Prater, and her special furry grandson, Barney. A special note of love and appreciation to her favorite cousin, Shirlee Ehlers, who spoke with her weekly without fail for many years. There are not enough words to express the joy those calls brought to her. Also a special note of love and appreciation to Martha Garmon who has been her hair stylist for many, many years. She looked forward to every appointment and the opportunity to talk with Martha.
