“ I am very sorry for your loss. May the God of all comfort be with you during this difficult time. My thoughts and prayers are with you in your time of grief. May your memories bring you comfort. My heartfelt condolences to the family during this time of sorrow. (1Corinthians 15:26) (Isaiah 61:1,2) Please find peace in knowing that He understands your grief and He cares. 1 Peter 5:6, 7 I hope in time comfort can be found in reading Psalm 68:19,20.

“ Becky and I were friends in high school and friends and roommates in college at the University of Georgia. She was a friendly, loving person with a lively sense of mischief. We had many adventures together and, even after we went our separate ways, we talked from time to time and exchanged Christmas cards. She was a born teacher and I am sure her students benefited from her instructions. Even when her health deteriorated, she did not complain except to regret lost opportunities. I will miss having her friendship.

“ I remember Rebecca as a classmate for 12 years, started and finished school in the same school, same class, bonded for life, always a friend, always very smart and always a lady. I'm sure she blessed the lives of all who knew her as she did mine.

“ Rebecca managed to smile on the morning of tests; managed to smile just after she tripped; managed to smile even when some plans just didn't come out the way she wanted.
The thing I want to say is how marvelously she managed to smile, to share kindness, and to persuade by sweet example the rest of us to try, at least in homeroom, to smile.
Her charm, warmth, and concern for others made each school day just a little easier.

“ Rebecca was a very lovely and sweet friend of my sister and me when we were in school at Pepperell in 1960 and 1961. I remember her and her brother Doyle living on the same street(S 2nd in Lindale) and I lived in the next block in the middle of 3 S 2nd Street. Becky was a very lovely and sweet friend of mine when we were in school and I have always have had her in my thoughts over the years, wondered where she was and what she was doing all these years. I will always remember her as one of my best friends while we were in school and will also regret not keeping in touch with her. My love and condolences to Rebecca's family in their time of grief. She was a wonderful person and I will always remember her as a wonderful friend and close neighbor. God bless you all.....
